The Bush School’s International Affairs Department – Ad for MPIA Visiting Assistant Professor

The Bush School of Government and Public Service at Texas A&M University seeks a visiting assistant professor for a full-time, one-year, non-tenure track appointment during AY2016-2017 to teach courses on American foreign policy and European security issues in its International Affairs Department. We invite applications from candidates with a Ph.D. in history, political science or international affairs. Additional information about Bush School programs can be found at http://bush.tamu.edu/. Position will remain open until filled.

Applicants should send a curriculum vitae and letter of interest specifying their areas of expertise, teaching experience, and related skills, among other information relevant to successful instruction in the international affairs graduate department to:

Professor Gregory Gause
(via email at gregory.gause@tamu.edu)
The Bush School of Government & Public Service
Texas A&M University
4220 TAMU
College Station, TX 77843-4220

Texas A&M University is an equal opportunity, affirmative action employer strongly committed to achieving excellence through cultural diversity. The University actively encourages applications from women, minorities and persons with disabilities. The University is also responsive to the needs of dual career couples.