ABOUT THE PROGRAM

-established in 2018 in response to student demand and growth in the professional opportunities available in cyber policy and cybersecurity.

-prepares students for professional careers in government and nongovernment within the cyber arena.

-strong partnerships with senior officials in the Department of Defense (DOD) and U.S. Cyber Command as well as NGOs.

-faculty are active in a number of research areas:
  - critical infrastructure development and defense
  - cyber resilience
  - cyber deterrence and coercion
  - international frameworks for cyber norms, non-state institutions, and governance mechanisms in the management of internet security operations

-graduates are already at work in the cyber field, including:
  - U.S. Cyber Command
  - U.S. Army Cyber Corps
  - South Texas Project Nuclear Operating Company

LIEUTENANT GENERAL J. KEVIN MCLAUGHLIN

-director of the cyber policy, security, and strategy program

-currently a member of the strategic advisory group for the U.S. strategic command

-served for over 30 years in the air force, holding many leadership positions, including:
  - deputy commander of united states cyber command
  - first commander of the USAF's space development and test wing
  - vice commander, USAF warfare center
  - deputy director of global operations for U.S. strategic command
  - commander, Air Forces Cyber
  - commander, 24th Air Force

BUSH.TAMU.EDU/CYBERSECURITY