REQUIREMENTS TO APPLY

Current Texas A&M University (College Station, TX) undergraduate students may apply for admission into the 3+2 MPSA program during the fall of their junior year (or in the fall when they are classified as a U3) as long as the student:

- is classified as a U3 (or junior) majoring in Political Science, Economics, Agricultural Economics, Sociology, Wildlife & Fisheries Sciences, or Rangeland, Wildlife & Fisheries Sciences at the time of their application; and
- has worked with their undergrad advisor to map out undergrad courses the student must complete prior to and after entry into the 3+2 program (if admitted); and
- has (or will have) 66-78 credit hours of their undergrad degree completed by the start of the fall semester of their junior year (when they begin the 3+2 application process); and
- is predicted to have at least 102 credit hours of their undergrad degree completed prior to the fall semester in which they will enter the 3+2 program; and
- have (or will have) a cumulative GPA of at least a 3.25 by the start of the fall semester in which they will enter the 3+2 program; and
- is in good academic standing with their undergrad department, and
- is not expected to graduate or complete their undergrad degree in 2022 or 2023, and
- understands that failure to satisfy ALL of these requirements will result in admission (if offered) being revoked to the 3+2 program.

PROGRAM OVERVIEW

If admitted into the 3+2 program, the student would enter the Bush School's MPSA program in the fall of their senior year (or when they are classified as a U4) and take courses that double count toward both their undergraduate and MPSA degrees (around 15-18 credit hours). During the student's fifth/final year, students take courses that only count toward the MPSA degree. The student will graduate and receive a diploma for both their undergrad and master's degrees at the end of their fifth year, when they successfully complete the requirements of both degrees.

As a result, it is imperative undergrad students interested in the 3+2 program notify their undergrad advisors as soon as they are interested so that the advisor and student can work together to figure out which courses the student:

- Must complete prior to entering the MPSA program (in the fall of their fourth year), and
- Must set aside and take after entry into the MPSA program (that would double count toward both degrees).

A student admitted to the 3+2 MPSA program must complete all of their required undergrad course requirements (including study abroad) prior to the fall semester of entry into the MPSA program, with the exception of the 15-18 credit hours they have set aside to double count. Otherwise, the student's offer of admission to the 3+2 program will be rescinded and the student would be advised to reapply to the full, 2-year MPSA program after completion of their undergrad degree.

Once a student is admitted and begins the Bush School's MPSA degree in the fall of their fourth year when they are classified as a U4, the student cannot take any undergrad courses to fulfill their undergrad degree requirements. Students are expected to only take graduate level courses that fulfill the requirements of the MPSA degree, some of which will also double count toward requirements in the student's undergrad degree.

ADMISSIONS PROCESS

The Bush School Admissions Office works with the applicant's undergraduate department (Political Science, Economics, Agricultural Economics, Sociology, Wildlife & Fisheries Sciences, or Rangeland, Wildlife & Fisheries Sciences) to process applications for the Master of Public Service & Administration (MPSA) 3+2 program. We admit students into the 3+2 program for fall entry only.

To apply, applicants submit a 3+2 MPSA Internal Application and all required materials (including recommendations) by the application deadlines stated above. Do NOT submit an application in GradCAS. Incomplete applications will NOT be considered for admission. Please use the same spelling and name on all correspondence/documents to avoid confusion or delay in processing; and immediately notify the Bush School of any changes to your address and/or name.

Note: The Bush School Admissions Office will email applicants for any missing items and when their application is complete. Be sure to monitor the preferred email address you entered on your internal application for updates.

In late January/early February, applicants are notified via email if they are or are not selected for the interview round in the admissions process. Those invited to interview are encouraged to attend and interview during Interview Conference Weekend (ICW), scheduled for Feb 17-18, 2023. Alternate Zoom interviews are available for those who cannot attend ICW and will be held throughout the month of February.

In late February/early March, Admissions and Scholarship Committees meet to make final admissions and scholarship decisions. By mid-March, applicants are notified of their admissions decision. If offered admission, applicants will receive an offer letter containing the Bush School Scholarship amount they've been awarded and will have until April 15th to accept or decline their offer.

Recommendations can be from:

- (preferred) an academic reference, particularly from a course instructor who can attest to an applicant's capability to pursue graduate school.
- a professional reference who can speak to the applicant's leadership; character; public service, military, or work experience and can provide specific anecdotes as to why the applicant is qualified for graduate school.

To request a recommendation, applicants should fill out the top portion of the Recommendation Form and send to their recommenders with instructions to do the following:

1. Write a letter of recommendation (preferably written on official letterhead).
2. Fill out the bottom portion of the recommendation form.
3. Email recommendation form and letter of recommendation to the Bush School Admissions Office at bushschoolapplications@tamu.edu. We will not accept recommendations submitted from an applicant; recommendations must be emailed directly from the recommender.

TRANSCRIPTS

We have access to Texas A&M student transcripts and will download a current transcript for you at the time of your application and after the fall 2022 semester. You do not need to submit any transcripts.

GRE/GMAT (optional)

The MPSA does NOT require applicants to submit GRE or GMAT scores. However, we encourage scores for anyone who feels they can complement a strong file or offset concerns such as a low GPA or lack of experience in the field. We recommend scores be near or above our 305 average. We prefer the GRE over GMAT.

Applicants who decide to submit test scores should upload the unofficial Test Score Report to their internal application. Scores must be within five years of the date the application is submitted. Official scores are not required, but can be sent to Texas A&M University (College Station) using GRE Code: 6003 / GMAT Code: 7B7-K9-57.

Undergrad Advisor Approval

It is imperative students meet with their undergrad advisor to ensure they are on track to complete all requirements for their undergrad degree (except for the courses that double count toward both their undergrad and MPSA degree) prior to the fall semester they will enter the 3+2 program (if admitted). Submit the following via the 3+2 MPSA Internal Application:

You may do this by filling out and uploading a B.A. SOCI/MPSA or B.S. SOCI/MPSA 5-Year Course Planner to your internal application. Or, you can have your advisor email bushschoolapplications@tamu.edu with their approval for you to apply to the 3+2 MPSA program.
